

Mantokuji Soto Mission of Paia Current Projects

Your generous monetary donations, your donations of goods and services, your continuing payments of membership dues and fees, your purchases at our fundraisers & church events, and your volunteer work all help to cover Mantokuji's general administrative and maintenance costs. They all help to fund and support Mantokuji's projects, big and small, as well. We are pleased to share that we have developed and are executing our Strategic Plan to successfully guide projects into the future.

Here are some of the major projects needing the most funds now and in the future:

Bell Tower Repair and Restoration

We are about midway in our bell tower repair and restoration project. The project manager has obtained a structural engineer's report and is now in the permitting process.

The final cost is estimated at around $200,000. Some grant monies have been secured, but more funds need to be raised.

Shoreline 20 years ago

Mantokuji is currently in the early stages of researching and evaluating the situation and the affected land and structures. Erosion of the cemetery shoreline has its own unique set of concerns regarding the archiving, mapping, and relocation of gravesites.

The problems associated with the ongoing shoreline erosion are numerous and multi-layered and will require a tremendous amount of money, resources, and attention to address. Under the guidance of a project manager,

General Maintenance and Repair

Mantokuji's Board of Directors continues to monitor general repair and maintenance projects for the temple, hall / kitchen, residence, and property. Recently completed projects include repair of the nokotsudo roof, eaves, and bathrooms. Ongoing projects include repair and maintenance of the elevator, grounds keeping, and pest control.
